A WARM WELCOME TO ALL OUR VISITORS

We welcome you to our properties and wish you an enjoyable and rewarding visit.

Safeguarding the nation’s heritage
Historic Scotland properties show Scotland’s rich and colourful past. Our organisation cares for 336 splendid historic sites, from prehistoric dwellings and stone circles, to castle and palaces, abbeys and cathedrals.

From the Highlands and Islands to the Borders, Historic Scotland sites tell the story of the people, places and events that shaped Scotland into the country we know today. Our role is to protect and conserve these national treasures for present and future generations.

Access for all
Most Historic Scotland attractions in this guide are accessible – however the special character of individual location, site geography, monument architecture and local environment brings limitations.

Where possible we will provide assistance to disabled visitors. For health & safety reasons, we may need to limit access to certain parts of the sites or to refuse admission for the visitor’s safety.

We are committed to developing and promoting inclusive access for all while being sensitive to our special historic environments.

Opening times
Opening times vary, especially at smaller sites. Please check our website for accurate and up-to-date opening times:

historicenvironment.scot

Closures
We may have to close a site due to adverse weather or other reasons beyond our control. Please check our website for details of closures:

historicenvironment.scot/closures

Admissions policy
There is no discount for disabled visitors. Visitors on incapacity benefit or income support are entitled to a concession ticket.

We offer free entry for carers accompanying visitors with disabilities.

Symbols
The Access Guide uses a family of symbols to help you quickly view site conditions, site access and special facilities provided for visitors.

Refer to the inside front cover for a full list of symbols and their meaning.

Parking
Wherever possible we provide accessible parking. This provision is confirmed in individual site text in this Access Guide.

Blue badge holders will take priority over those without.

Visitors with limited mobility
To enjoy our properties to the full we recommend that visitors with limited mobility come with an assistant.

Wheelchair loan is available at some sites – please phone ahead to check availability.

Please be aware that many of our sites have grass or loose gravel paths, and that weather conditions may affect their condition and ease-of-use. Please check the site conditions with our staff in advance or on arrival at site.

Level access routes
Sites providing level access are confirmed in this Access Guide.

Visitors with visual impairments
At some of our sites, information is provided in the following alternative formats to help visitors with visual impairments.

- Large print site information
- Tactile models
- Audio tours
- Sensory tours and scented gardens.

Details of options available are noted for each individual site entry in this Access Guide.

Historic Scotland continues to work hard to improve the provision of such facilities.

Visitors who are deaf and hard of hearing
Portable induction loops with handsets are available on all audio tours.

All audio tours have large print scripts available.

Assistance dogs
Assistance dogs are welcome at all our sites. Please be aware of farmland and farm animals and keep all dogs under control.
Toilets
Some of our sites have adapted toilets. These are all unisex and are accessible on foot or with a wheelchair.

Where a toilet is described as adapted, visitors can assume a minimum of: a wide doorway; level access; toilet, sink and dryer/towels at an appropriate height for wheelchair users; grab bars; and an alarm cord.

Adapted toilets listed as nearby, but not on our sites are described as 'accessible' on either The Nationwide Disabled Access Register or by a local council.

Parking
The car park is about 10m from the visitor centre. It has a rough gravel surface and no accessible spaces marked.

Approach to Site
The main castle building is about 30m along a level gravel roadway and about 10m down a fairly steep, uneven path.

Visitor Centre
Enter the shop via three concrete steps with a wooden handrail on both sides.

Monument
The entrance to the site has a gently sloping concrete plinth with a single handrail before stepping down to uneven natural rock at the entrance.

The ground level of the castle is mostly uneven rock or cobbles, and is slippery when wet.

The pier is of planked wood coated with an anti-slip surface.

The south (stern) tower is reached over a rough cut rock stair and a stone spiral staircase of 51 steps.

The east courtyard parapet (wall walk) is reached along the west spur, up a series of stone staircases or through the great hall, via a spiral staircase with no handrail.

The roof of the north (fore) tower is reached up 40 stone steps to the spur battery then along the battlements and up a further two sets (1 wood, 1 stone) of 7 steps.

The first floor is reached up a further 16 timber steps with a handrail on the left-hand side.

The mid tower is reached through a spring mounted wooden door.

The upper levels are reached via wide and even stone spiral stairs with no handrails.

There are four picnic tables and two benches on the lawn in front of the castle.

Surroundings
There is a large grassed area around the castle.

Toilets
The nearest adapted toilets are at Tesco, Link Road, Bo Ness EH51 9AN; 3.4 miles.

Parking
There is lay-by parking surfaced with rough tarmac.

Approach to site
The site is approached over a distance of about 500m on rough uphill ground.
From the layby the path is up six narrow and uneven stone steps with a handrail on one side to a narrow kissing gate.
The route continues up a steep embankment with 51 steps cut into the ground. There is a double timber handrail.
An uneven path then leads across a field to another kissing gate. The path is fully fenced, and livestock is kept separate. The path can be muddy in wet weather.
The final path to the visitor centre is laid in loose gravel.

Visitor centre
The visitor centre has two stone steps, and contains graphic interpretation of the site.
There is one bench outside the shop.

Monument
The cairn is surrounded by a rough stony area.
The top of the cairn is reached by a set of 14 stone steps with no handrail.
Access to the interior of the cairn is by a metal ladder of 11 rungs.

Surroundings
There is a large grassed area around the monument.

Toilets
There are no toilets on site. The nearest adapted toilets are about 3.5 miles away at Beecraigs Country Park.
Site contact number
0131 661 4445

Parking
The car park next to the visitor centre is surfaced with smooth tarmac. There is one accessible space. It is possible for visitors to be dropped off closer to the castle entrance.

Approach to site
The castle is reached from the visitor centre by a gently inclined 100m long tarmac path. There is a wooden bench with armrests halfway between the visitor centre and the castle.

Visitor centre
The visitor centre is on ground level and has a level threshold.

Monument
The castle is situated on relatively level ground. There is a steep grassed approach to the inner courtyard, which can be slippery in wet weather.

The courtyard is reached via a stone threshold. The castle has five levels.

The basement has a prison, cellars and bakery. It is reached down a stone staircase of 9 steps with a handrail.

The ground level contains the Dovecot, Inner Courtyard, Kitchen, Drawing Room and bottom level of the Towerhouse.

The first and second floors are reached via a wide spiral stone staircase with uneven steps and a single rope handrail.

The first floor has a kitchen, old dovecot and bedchambers. The second floor has the great hall, wall walk and a kitchen.

The third and fourth floors are reached by a narrow spiral staircase with uneven steps and a single rope handrail.

The third floor has the great hall gallery, and bed chamber. The fourth floor offers good panoramic views of Edinburgh.

Light levels can be low inside the castle, especially on the spiral stairs.

There is a bench in the castle courtyard.

Toilets
There is an adapted toilet in the castle, about 120m from visitor centre.
Parking
There is a rough gravel car park quite far from the castle. Visitors can be dropped off at the entrance by driving along the track and opening the gate. Please call 01875 320 017 for more information.

Approach to site
The site is approached through a latched kissing gate 1m wide and along a 400m long rough dirt track that can flood. This has some steep gradients up to 1.8 for 20m. There is a wooden gate 1m wide into the castle enclosure and then a short cobbled section.

Visitor centre
The ticket office has a small threshold and a timber step up with no handrail.

Monument
The ground floor is generally on the level and consists of the Courtyard, Chancellor’s room, Crichton’s lodgings, Bothwell range, Bakehouse and the Towerhouse floor. The surface is mostly loose gravel.

The first floor can be accessed by two sets of wide straight stone stairs with a handrail and one curved tapering stair without handrail from courtyard. It consists of the Hall, Kitchen, Pantries, Dining Room, Parlour and Old Hall.

The pit prison is accessed by a stone staircase with 10 steps and handrail.

Light levels within the castle are low as there is no electric lighting.

The Stables are 36m away from the castle over rough, grass covered terrain. The floor surface inside is level and covered with loose gravel.

Toilets
The nearest public toilet is about 5 miles away at Fordell Services on the A68.
Dirleton Castle and Gardens

Key things to remember

Site contact number
01620 850 330

Parking
There is a public car park surfaced with smooth tarmac approximately 100m from the site entrance. Visitors can be dropped off 10m from the site. Please call 01620 850 330.

Approach to site
The site is approached along the road with a gentle downhill gradient and entered through a gate.

Visitor centre
Enter through a door with a ramp either side. Space is restricted, but the floor is level.

Monument
The Gazebo is 13m from the visitor centre, up a stairway of 12 steps with a wooden handrail.

The Dovecot is 173m from the visitor centre and down five stone steps with a handrail. It has a low (1.36m) and narrow (0.7m) doorway with a 75mm threshold and two steps down into the interior.

The route with the fewest steps to the castle is about 250m from the visitor centre. There are three stone steps and one timber step with a handrail onto the drawbridge which has a steep gradient.

At ground level are the ruins of the brewhouse, guardhouse, inner close, chapel and priest’s room. The floor is uneven and there are several low door thresholds.

15 uneven stone steps, (eight of them are without a handrail), lead down to the bakehouse and vaults.

From the inner close (down 2 stone steps), eight uneven stone steps without a handrail lead down to the bottom level of the Ruthven tower. (There are also three stone steps down in the passage leading to the well).

A straight flight of eight wooden steps and three stone steps leads up to the first floor, consisting of the Great Hall, Kitchen, Portcullis Chamber and Lord’s Hall.

Surroundings
There are extensive gardens with gravel walkways and wooden benches throughout.

Special features
The garden is particularly fragrant in the summer. It is all on the level with bound gravel surfaced paths round the perimeter and a flat grass lawn in the middle.

Toilets
There are public toilets next to the car park. The nearest public adapted toilets are on Quality Street, North Berwick.
Site contact number
0131 225 9846

Parking
Available on the esplanade for Blue Badge holders. The esplanade is closed from April to September due to the Royal Edinburgh Military Tattoo. Please call 0131 225 9846. The nearest car park is on Castle Terrace.

Approach to site
Approach to site is across the esplanade. It is surfaced with smooth tarmac and has a gradient of 5 degrees up to the castle. The furthest point of the esplanade is 110m from the castle.

Visitor centre
The ticket office is to the right after entry into castle. Disabled visitors will be met on the esplanade and their entry facilitated by staff at the drawbridge.

Monument
A mobility vehicle to Crown Square is available on request. It can accommodate most wheelchairs, motorised wheelchairs and mobility scooters, but this is dependent on their dimensions. There are also two manual wheelchairs available. Please enquire when entering the castle or ask any member of staff. All areas of the castle are accessed from a central, steep curved route.

It is 15 degrees at its steepest point, the average is five degrees and it is approximately 350m from entering the castle to the top level at Crown Square. It is surfaced with cobbles, which can be uneven.

The One O’clock Gun is just past the Argyle Battery, next to the Redcoat Café. It is on the level, but the exhibition about it is down 29 even straight stone steps, with a handrail.

The courtyard of the National War Museum (operated by National Museums Scotland) is reached down a cobbled ramp of 12 degrees. The museum has a level entrance and a wheelchair for loan to visitors at no charge. There is a public lift between the two floors.

A summary of the displays, in English, is available as part of the main audio-tour of the castle. A transcript of the audio-tour is available.

St Margarets Chapel and Mons Meg are further up the central route, through Foogs Gate. The approach to Foogs Gate is the steepest part of the castle route. The surface around the Chapel and Mons Meg is cobbled.

The Chapel has a small ramp up to a door 810mm wide.

Continued overleaf
The Honours of Scotland have a ramp at the entrance, then a lift up to the first floor. There is a bronze replica of the Honours that can be touched.

The Royal Palace and apartments have no wheelchair access.

The Great Hall is currently accessed up a short flight of steps.

The Scottish War Memorial has a ramp entrance from Crown Square.

The Prisons of War exhibition has step-free access from Dury's Battery.

The vaults are accessed via numerous short flights of steps, with handrails on both sides. There is a virtual tour of the vaults for those unable to access them physically. There is step-free access to the lower part of the exhibition from Dury's battery.

Facilities

There is an audio guide available to buy from just past the Castle Gates on the right. The handsets operate by a push button system.

Assistance dogs are welcome.

Braille guidebooks are available on request from Admissions staff.

Cafés

The Redcoat Café, next to the Argyle Battery has step-free access.

The Tea Rooms in the Queen Anne Building are accessed by 3 steps from Crown Square. Step-free access is available – please ask a steward for assistance.

Shops

The main Gift Shop is on the right after entering the castle. It has step-free access but is approached up a steep, cobbled hill.

The Whisky & Bookshop is next to St Margaret's Chapel and has a small threshold.

The Crown Gift Shop in Crown Square has five stone steps to enter.

Toilets

There are three sets of adapted toilets. The first is to the left upon entry to the castle. The second is in the Red Coat Café, and the third is in the Queen Anne building in Crown Square.

Parking
Parking spaces are available at the front of the palace. There are two accessible bays next to the entrance. The surface is stone cobbles. The furthest bay is 5m from the entrance to the palace.

Approach to site
Approach directly from the car park.

Visitor centre
Entry is over a small (50mm) stone threshold and is level after that, but the surface is uneven. The visitor centre is on the level, while the shop is entered via a single step.

Monument
Ground floor The courtyard, the king’s fountain and the old entrance are all on the level, the floor being surfaced with flagstones and some cobbles.

The first floor is reached by one of four stone spiral staircases. Three have handrails. All have uneven treads and around 25 steps.

The first floor includes the King’s Chambers, Great Hall, Chapel Royal, and a small museum showing finds from the palace and peel.

There are many small level changes between rooms.

Surroundings
The peel around the palace is large grassed park. There is a circular path of about 2.3 miles long that follows the lochside. It is surfaced with compacted gravel.

Toilets
The nearest adapted toilet is at Burgh Halls, about 110m from the site’s main entrance.
Site contact number
01875 813 334

Parking
The car park is surfaced with smooth tarmac and spaces are clearly marked. There are two marked disabled bays.

Approach to site
There is a single large step down onto the site through the entrance gate. A portable ramp is available.

The site is about 150m from the car park along a tarmac path. The path is a little uneven, but is well drained.

Visitor Centre
Access to the visitor centre is by a consolidated gravel path. Enter by one small concrete step up with no handrail.

Monument
Entry to the church is across mown lawns and a short stretch of unconsolidated gravel.

The church is entered up a single stone step and through a heavy wooden door. Inside the crossing is level.

There are two small stone steps up into the choir.

There is one step into the sacristy.

The ruins of the priests’ quarters are outside across a cut grass lawn.

The carved stone shelter is outside across a cut grass lawn.

A portable ramp is available.
There are wooden benches in the garden around the site.

Toilets
Access to the toilets is down a set of 13 steps formed of concrete with an earth and gravel tred. There is a secure handrail. There are then two concrete steps up into the toilet with no handrail.

The nearest adapted toilets are 1.5 miles away at Links Road, Port Seton, EH32. This is an attended facility managed by East Lothian Council.
Site contact number
01620 892 727

Parking
There is a small car park with two accessible spaces next to the visitor centre. It is level tarmac. There is a larger car park around 400m away from the visitor centre.

Approach to site
The castle is 250m from the visitor centre along an undulating grass pathway (steepest gradient 1:10) and across a timber bridge.

Visitor centre
Enter through a door 0.91m wide (by either a 1:20 ramp or three steps).

There are two picnic tables and two benches at the visitor centre.

Monument
The dovecot is 40m off the main pathway to the castle and can be reached via cut grass.

Enter the castle over a 6m section of cobbles into the grass courtyard. From here the whole castle can be seen and there is a good view of Bass Rock.

On the ground level there is stepped access into storage cellars and a kitchen.

The upper levels include the great hall and battlements and are reached by a series of uneven stone staircases, both straight and spiral.

The mid tower has a spiral staircase with a handrail.

The fore tower has a safety rail.

Light levels can be low especially on the spiral stairs.

The grass can become muddy in places when wet.

There are four benches in the inner courtyard at the castle.

Surroundings
There are no marked out paths other than those to the castle and dovecot. The area is entirely grass covered, with several dips and rises.

Toilets
There is an adapted toilet available for visitors next to the visitor centre.

Parking
There is no specific parking provided for the house. There is a car park for users of the Kirkgate Shopping Centre behind Trinity House. It is level, surfaced with tarmac and has three accessible bays. Parking is restricted to 90 minutes (after which a charge is introduced).

Approach to site
The main entrance to the house is up three wide, even, stone steps. There is also a ramped side entrance (gradient of 1:10, lower section at 1:12).

Viewing is by guided tour only.

Please telephone in advance to arrange this on 0131 554 3289.

Monument
The ground floor is level. There is access to the Captains' room and a guide to the collections for those unable to access the first floor.

There is a video display in the vaults, reached by nine, stone steps with handrail.

The first floor has an impressive collection display and is accessed by a large carpeted staircase with 22 even steps and handrails.

Toilets
The nearest adapted toilet is at Taylor Gardens, half a mile from the museum. It is a RADAR scheme toilet.

Parking
There is a small level tarmac surfaced car park. It has two accessible bays.

Approach to site
From the car park to the visitor centre is along a 100m path surfaced with concrete paving slabs. It is mainly on the level with a slight incline near a gate.

From the visitor centre to the monument is a 130m long level concrete path with a short section of gravel which has a gradient steeper than 1:10.

Visitor centre
Access to the ticket office is step free. The exit is down a concrete ramp with a slight slope and a handrail on one side.

There is a bench on the path from the visitor centre to the monument.

Monument
The abbey nave and transepts have a short grass surface which is naturally firmer during dry weather. There are also areas of stone paving slabs.

There is a step free gravel surfaced route 100m long around the site to the gatehouse and refectory. These are also surfaced in gravel.

There is a flight of 10 uneven stone steps down into the cloister from the nave which does not have handrails.

There is an alternative route from the refectory up into the cloister with 12 steps, with a handrail on one side.

The chapter house in the cloister is down one historic stone step and ten modern timber steps with handrails on both sides.

There are three picnic benches in the meadow, five benches in the cloister and two benches down by the River Tweed.

Facilities
A handling box is available.

Parking
Parking is available at two plastic reinforced grass areas. The main car park is on a slight incline. The overflow car park is level. Visitors can be dropped off at the visitor centre.

Approach to site
The main car park is about 100m away from the visitor centre on a tarmacked surface at an upward incline.

The overflow car park is 25m from visitor centre on a level tarmacked area.

Visitor centre
In front of the visitor centre is a gravel track which can be mucky in wet weather and has pot holes.

The visitor centre is 200m from the castle on tarmac and paved surfaces up a slope.

The visitor centre is step free. There is also level access to the café.

There is an exhibition on the Siege of Caerlaverock also on the level. This includes an audio visual presentation. There is no induction loop in the exhibition.

Monument
Nearing the castle after the moat there is a short but steep (1:6) downwards grass section.

The main level route inside the castle is paved, and this route allows access around the courtyard to the south range from where there are excellent views of the east range and the moat.

There are steps down into some rooms, but most of these can also be viewed from the path. The majority of these rooms have gravel surfaces. Historic stone spiral stairs with handrails lead to the upper levels of the east range.

There are picnic benches and summer seats for visitors.

Surroundings
The woodland path to the old castle is approximately 200m long and involves numerous stepped and non-stepped level changes. It has earth and decked walkway sections. There are steps over the moat at the old castle.

Special features
Caerlaverock is in a countryside location that has many different types of habitat. This means there are numerous species of birds and plants to be enjoyed.

The woodland path joins the Caerlaverock National Nature Reserve.

The shop is very small, and is entered up two wooden steps with no handrail.

Monument
The courtyard has very uneven cobbles. The cellar floor of the tower, containing an interpretation display, is reached by a straight timber stair of 15 steps with a handrail. A stone spiral staircase gives access to the upper levels and is 85 steps to the top of the towerhouse. This is a historic stair, so not all of them are level or square. The stairs have a fixed handrail. Light levels can be very low in winter. The top two tower rooms are lit by daylight only so light levels can be low.

The interactive castle model emits sounds when activated by a button-press.

There are internal tables and seating available for about 18 people at the bottom of the tower. There are two chairs in the tower cellar with the dressing up costumes.

Surroundings
The grass terrace at the front of the property offers superb views of the surrounding landscape. The top terrace is accessed via a cobbled path and two small steps which have no handrails. The middle terrace has stepped access with partial handrail.

There are four benches on the top terrace in the garden and two benches on the middle terrace.

Toilets
The nearest adapted toilet is about 1 mile away at the Post Office, Dollar, FK14 7EJ.

Parking
There is a level, tarmac-surfaced car park with two accessible bays. Visitors can be dropped off at the castle by reversing a car up to the gate. Please call the site in advance of doing this on 01786 841 742, and be aware of pedestrians using this route.

Approach to site
The path to the castle is 275m long. It starts off on tarmac at a slight incline and ends with a very steep gradient and rough, uneven cobbles. These can be very slippery when wet. The route is visible from the car park.

Visitor centre
The entrance has rough uneven cobbles and is on an upward slope with a single handrail. The visitor centre has four high uneven stone steps up into it and no handrail.

Monument
The courtyard is grassed and uneven. The ground floor exhibition is step-free.

The first floor, including Kitchen, Great Hall and Duke’s Hall, is reached up a straight stair of 13 steps with a handrail. There are several raised thresholds.

The second floor, containing the Duchess’s Hall and other chambers, is reached by uneven spiral staircases with handrails.

Surroundings
The castle sits in extensive wood and parkland. There is a footpath to the village of Doune and a riverside walk below the castle.

Toilets
There is an adapted toilet in the cottage, about 300m from the castle along an artificial grass surface.

Parking
There is some on-street parking, including an accessible space, approximately 50m from the cathedral entrance on Kirk Street. There is also a public car park, including two accessible spaces, behind the cathedral approximately 100m away.

Approach to site
Approach to site is on a level tarmac path approximately 50m from the street to the south entrance.

The south door is accessed by a ramp, the door itself is very heavy.

Monument
The nave, choir and chapter house are on the level on stone or tile floors.

Access to the tower is up four wooden steps with a single handrail on the left.

Access to the Clement Chapel is by a short flight of stone spiral stairs with a single cast-iron handrail on the left.

The gallery is reached by a narrow stone spiral staircase with no handrails.

There may be loud noises at the site when the organ is being played.

Practise sessions can take place throughout the week.

Light levels are lower in the Belltower, the west spiral staircase and balcony, and the Clement Chapel.

Pew and individual seating is available in most areas of the cathedral.

Surroundings
The cathedral is surrounded by a graveyard. This has tarmac paths, but is mostly grassed.

Toilets
The nearest adapted toilet is at the Cathedral Halls on The Cross approximately 50m from the cathedral entrance. It is open 09:30 - 12:00. It is closed on weekends.

Further publicly accessible adapted facilities are in the Stirling Council Offices 75m from the cathedral. These are open from 09:00 - 17:00 Monday-Friday. They are closed at the weekend.

Key things to remember
Inchmahome Priory

Site contact number
01877 385 294

Parking
There is a rough tarmac-surfaced car park on the mainland.

Approach to site
A small motor boat ferries visitors to the island. There is a small wooden threshold into the boat shed and a jetty surfaced with uneven stone paving. Visitors must be able to climb into and out of a boat.

Visitor centre
The visitor centre is accessed by an uneven stone jetty and up two shallow steps.

Monument
Whilst the priory itself is relatively level, the main routes around the island are not surfaced, and are rough and uneven, with tree roots and large stones.

The routes around the priory are grass and gravel, and are firmer during periods of dry weather.

There is a large open area around the priory that gives good views of the buildings.

There is a small threshold into the nave, and larger ones (100mm) into the cloister.

Toilets
Toilets are near the reception area and are up 5 earthen steps. The nearest adapted toilet is at the Lake of Menteith Hotel on the mainland.
Parking
Cars are permitted on the island only with a permit from the local authority office in Oban. Blue badge holders (with a permit) can take vehicles on the ferry. Parking is limited on the island. There is no parking within the abbey grounds. A taxi service is available, on 07810 325 990.

Approach to site
Approach along a single 600m road from the ferry pier uphill to the abbey.

Monument
The abbey complex sits within an area of well kept grass. From the entrance, a dust path brings visitors and vehicles to the buildings.

The entrance to the church is stepped, though alternative access to the nave through the cloisters is step-free.

Two sets of steps lead from the nave to the crossing. The choir runs from the east side of the crossing with a step at either end and two shallow steps take the visitor to the communion table.

The cloisters are on the north side of the church. The four sides are level and the entrance is ramped.

The shop is in the north west corner of the cloisters. Shop access is through a tight, steep angled ramp and the floor slopes gently along the length of the shop.

St Columba’s Shrine is to the left of the church’s main door. It is very small and has a narrow doorway.

The museum and the Michael Chapel are two separate buildings on the seaward side of the Abbey complex. The dust path takes visitors round and both have steps nearer the entrance. It is possible to move onto the grass and gain access that way. Both buildings have shallow steps at the entrance to prevent flooding.

The museum houses a collection of carved stones.

The Oran Chapel is outside the grounds. A narrow gate leads to a narrow dust path which winds round the graveyard and to the door of the chapel. The door is wide with a step inside.

Benches are on site during the summer months.

Toilets
There are no toilets on site. The nearest adapted toilets are located at the Iona Community Shop opposite the abbey.

Parking
Cars are parked in the lawn area at the entrance to the house at the start of the red blaze track. Visitors with mobility difficulties will be allowed to park closer.

Approach to site
The site is open to the public eight days of the year.

Access to the house is by guided tour starting from Kinneil Museum, about 200m from the house. The tours are timed and have limited capacity.

There are two routes used to get to the house. One is via a short section of tarmac road and then along a red blaze drive for about 270m. The surface is uneven. The other route follows a hard-core path for about 230m before crossing a small section of grass and gravel path. There is a small step.

Monument
The entrance to Kinneil House is via one stone step down to a gravel path, then one step up, through a narrow doorway and then five steps down to reach the main corridor. The entrance corridor consists of flagstones which can be uneven followed by a further corridor to the right made of rough concrete screed.

The stone display is on the ground floor through a narrow doorway.

There is a small stone lip and then 15 narrow steps up with a handrail to reach the first floor. There is one step down into the first painted room and then another step up to go into the second painted room.

The painted rooms can have low light levels as only natural light is used to protect the paintings.

The second floor is up 27 narrow steps with a small platform halfway. There is no handrail.

Access to the roof is by a narrow metal doorframe with three steps up, over a small metal lip and one large concrete step down. The door has a very low lintel. The roof area is largely flat with some shallow guttering in the floor and one small ramp between the two areas.

There is a viewing gallery in the tower on a wooden platform that can be reached over the grass lawn about 9m from the main entrance. There is a small ramp down with a little lip between the stone and wooden surfaces.

Toilets
The nearest adapted toilet is at Kinneil Museum which is about 200m from the house.

INCHCOML ABBEY AND ISLAND

Site contact number
01383 823 332

Parking
On-street parking is available in South Queensferry.

Approach to site
Two commercial ferries sail to the island, both from South Queensferry (Maid of the Forth, 0131 331 5000; Forth Boat Tours, 0870 118 1866). Both boats have narrow gangways onto them. The island pier has 20 stone steps (the descent may be shorter, depending on the tide).

Visitor centre
There is a loose gravel path from the ferry landing to the visitor centre. It is accessed up a metal stair with handrails on both sides. Alternatively, please speak to a steward for ramped access.

Monument
The abbey is 180m from the landing up a gentle slope. There are threshold steps at both the east and west doors, which lead to the cloister and chapter house. Light levels can be very low.

The abbey’s upper levels are reached by uneven historic stairs.

The bell tower is reached by a very narrow and steep stone spiral stair and then steep wooden ladder-steps.

Surroundings
The First and Second World War ruins are reached along very uneven, steep rocky paths. Gulls may attack during nesting season (March – July) if you get too close.

Toilets
The nearest adapted toilets are on the mainland, about 1.5 miles from the ferry piers, at Tesco, Ferry Muir, EH30 9QZ.

Parking
There is no visitor parking at this monument. There is on street parking, but the nearest car park is at the Bruce Embankment about ¾ mile away. Visitors can be dropped at the castle.

Visitor centre
Visitor centre access is via five steps down with handrails to either side or a ramp without handrails. Once inside the centre is on the level.
There is an informative exhibition with audio visual and diorama presentations.

Monument
The castle is about 50m from the visitor centre, over grass reinforced with narrow strips of concrete.
The castle courtyard is entered over a wooden bridge. The courtyard is grass covered and much of the castle can be seen from it.
The south range first and second floors are up stone spiral steps with single handrails.
The sea and kitchen towers are up stone steps with single hand rails.
The mine and countermine are down very uneven rock steps. The passage is very low and narrow.

Special features
There is a multi-sensory exhibition in the visitor centre.
An audio guide is available in English.

Toilets
There is an adapted toilet on site next to the exhibition.
Parking
There is no specific parking for the site, but on street parking is available nearby. Visitors can be dropped off in front of the war memorial at the top of North Street.

Approach to the site
There are two entrances to the Cathedral when approaching from the town centre.

The main gate leads to 10 stone steps followed by a compacted gravel area that leads to a level grassed area.

The other entrance gate is situated next to the war memorial at the top of North Street. The memorial gate gives level access to a compacted gravel path which leads down the length of the site.

The gravel path eventually connects to a third gate in the northern perimeter wall. This third gate allows access from the coastal path to the site up two stone steps. Thereafter access is over grass through the graveyard and around the site ruins.

Visitor centre
The visitor centre is accessed over cut grass and a 100m section with narrow strips of concrete at the entrance. There is level access to the two main rooms of the museum via two ramps. One of the ramps is situated near the entrance of the visitor centre. The other ramp is situated on the other side of the building and is opened by a steward when requested. There are four steps to access the shop and a further five steps to access the third smaller room of the museum.

Monument
St Andrews Cathedral is mainly on ground level though there are steps and raised thresholds throughout the grounds. There are many gravestones and other trip hazards surrounding the main walkways.

St Rule’s Tower is reached by a narrow turnstile (48cm) requiring a token which is part of the admission price. There are narrow (69cm) and uneven spiral stairs leading to the top. Light levels are low in parts of the museum.

There are benches outside around the site. There is a chair in the visitor centre.
